ARE THE CLASSICAL SOCIOLOGISTS STILL IMPORTANT FOR THE UNDERSTANDING OF CONTEMPORARY SOCIETY?

3 March 2020
h. 9:30 - 18:00
SALA LAUREE
Facoltà di Scienze Politiche, Economiche e Sociali via Conservatorio 7, Milan

PROGRAM

9:30 INAUGURAL ADDRESS AND CHAIR Antonio M. Chiesi University of Milan

9:45 Political Taboos in the Contemporary Political Realm
Patrick Baert University of Cambridge

10:30 Two Faces of Karl Marx: in the Perspective of His Theory of Property
Wiesław Gumuła Jagiellonian University of Cracow

11:30 The sociological analysis of modernity
Alberto Martinelli University of Milan

12:00 DISCUSSION

15:00 CHAIR Mariolina Graziosi University of Milan

Classic Sociology and the Predicaments of the Anthropocene
Markus Schulz University of Erfurt - Max Weber Center for Advanced Cultural and Social Studies

15:30 On the Relevance of Classical Sociology: A Scientometric Analysis
Riccardo Campa Jagiellonian University of Cracow

16:00 “Reclaiming the classics” in a time of radical social change
Mariolina Graziosi University of Milan

16:30 Weberian Diagnosis: Technology and Disenchantment of the World
Nino Salamone University of Milan-Bicocca

17:00 DISCUSSION